ABOUT

Ingrid Nuss is a visual artist residing in Wilderness, the 'Heart of the Garden Route', South Africa.

Avid family camping trips between the Cape and Namibia cultivated Ingrid's deep love for natural surroundings and stimulated her inspiration for creativity. Much of her youth was spent drawing and painting everything she loved. She attended the Jack Meyer Art Centre whilst at school and then graduated with distinction at the Michaelis School of Fine Art in Cape Town in 2007 (UCT).

After her studies, she traveled extensively and worked for one of the largest privately-owned art auctioneering companies in the world. Those years abroad allowed her to explore places such as New York, California, Hawaii, and Alaska, also much of the East and some of the South. This was extremely valuable in shaping her life views and beliefs.

Upon returning to her homeland, South Africa, The Garden Route's evergreen forests, untouched coastline and majestic mountains drew her into some of the magical scenarios she loves to paint. It became her greatest inspiration and continuously provides the subject matter she loves.

Further fascination with aspects of biology, patterns, science, philosophy, and spirituality, has shaped her own visual language to express her innermost emotions through her artwork.

DREAMALITIES

Dreamalities lie on the edge of imagination and reality – A blend of the real and the surreal.

It's an ideal world where time doesn't exist, and Mother Nature is in harmony. Artworks from this collection will transcend your space beyond any sensory limitations.

"MEDITATING ON THE INFINITE"

INTERNAL EXTERNAL SPACES

The internal space gives us protection – a vantage point from where we can watch the world go by. The external space is infinite – containing the possibilities of reality and our imagination. Combine the two by inviting the infinity of the external into your internal space.

Old paint flaking off modern interiors act as a homage to the inescapable passage of time. A nod to the fact that nature will always find a way in.

The juxtaposition of these scenes invite the opening of your surrealist mind.

A3 (35 x 35cm) | A2 (50 x 50cm)

When I first laid eyes on Ingrid's work, it stirred something in me - something I felt deeply but couldn't find the words to express. It was both an exploration of magic and mystery and awe, and a return home to where I felt understood. She has a way of capturing the sheer beauty of nature, evoking your inner child's curiosity and at the same time connecting you to a much older wisdom flowing through your blood. Her warmth, friendliness, and approachability make her a truly special and rare human. She sees the world the way I suspect it truly is - full of magic.

What is more profound than starting a new day or ending an old one under a pink sky? The eternal moment exists when the sky turns pink.
